

LEMON

Citrus limon- Organic

Aromatic molecules : limonene

Distilled organ : zest

Native to India and cultivated in the south of Europe and California, lemon is one of the most useful fruits in natural medicine. The essence is obtained by cold expression of the external part of the fruit peel. Around 3,000 lemons are needed to obtain 1 kg of essence. It has so many properties that it is systematically used, with real success, in a large number of ailments. The essence neutralises Eberth bacilli and staphylococcus in 5 minutes, and Loeffler bacilli (diphtheria) in 20 minutes.

Traditionally known for its properties

• antibacterial • antiseptic • antiviral • vitamin-P mimetic and blood fluidifier • digestive tonic, carminative, laxative, depurative agent • litholytic.
